The critical situation in New York has not changed in any material degree. The sanguine indications are that the Republicans are more hopeful than ever that the official count will give the Electoral vote of the State to Blaine. The Democratic canvassers in failing. The privately are claimed for Cleveland ranges between 400 and 600 votes only, and Mr. Evarts is credited with the statement that the corrected vote of New York City alone will overcome these bare figures.

The most important action on the part of the election in the fact that the Democratic managers continue to circulate false claims and charges of fraud which are designed to arouse party passions. Some of the lies that fools are professors. For instance, it is protended that the Republicans are making disputes in the effort to seize to bring the matter into court, and thus before Congress. This is simply absurd. If the Republicans can by no means them bring a disputed result of the Electoral vote of New York before Congress their case is lost. The House of Representatives is overwhelmingly Democratic by States as well as of individual constituents, and to throw into the vote of New York would be the easiest way to elect Cleveland. This is a fair sample of the Democratic lies. The Republicans hope to obtain such a canvass of the votes as will leave no doubt of the result, except that State Canvassing Board (Democratic by law in part) to delude certificates to those Electors, be they Democratic or Republican, who have received a plurality of the popular vote.

Disquisitions which have been sent out from New York, Buffalo, and other cities to the effect that the men who have made bets on Blaine's carrying New York or on his election are paying over their money is simply excellent weak invention of "our friends, the enemy." Any sane man understands that at this time is no use. Tom Dawson is not so much concerned in behalf of the men who have made wagers as it is about the deceit and blunder of which the circulation of such reports is a part. The Democrats are playing a desperate game, whatever the result may be.

Again we warn our readers not to regard dutch information about the result of the New York vote however or how dug. There is nothing to be had such. Republicans in New York will watch, and Republicans elsewhere may pray. Democratic may power and fraud, but an honest or prudent man among them all will contribute to the attempt to create such an impression of a victory as will compel ultimate defeat. Let the vote be counted honestly and lawfully, and let all men—Republicans and Democrats—resolve to abide by the result and submit it.

NEW YORK.

RESULT PROBABLY

New York, Nov. 10.—[Special.]—The Republican National Committee are still corresponding to their point that Blaine and Logan have received a majority of the votes of the State. They assert with perfect assurance the result of the official canvass, which will be begun in the city counties of the State on 1 o'clock tomorrow. They advise all Republicans to be cool and composure in action and language and to avoid any exhibition of an inflammatory character. The Democracy expressed about electing the returns in the official canvass. The returns were all that is the officer of the County of the several counties four days ago, and the only procedure now possible is the judicial revision, to which both parties must bow.

The development of the last twenty-four hours indicate every known suspicion for Blaine than did those of Tuesday. Not to say the alleged Cleveland plurality was forbidden down, and now, according to figures obtained from Democratic sources, it is very evident that he has carried the State by 150 votes. In two of the Cleveland papers agree on the same figures, showing that the alleged plurality of the Democratic candidate is a matter of surmise and speculation.

Chairman Jones of the Federal Republican Committee said this morning:

"The facts placed on the withdrawal of fraud and irregularity which were brought to our notice in the hands of counsel, who have succeeded such charge. They have arrived at the day nothing for publication as to the state of the canvass, and no thought forward, and I can say that you that we will be able to bring home to the Democratic managers and manipulators to prevent success of the State and House of Court that will result in placing Mr. Blaine in his legitimate place as President elect."

"Who are the lawyers who have been employed in behalf of Mr. Blaine?"

"In this city we shall have William M. Evarts, Clarence A. Seward, Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, and Col. Oscar Hide. In the counties of the State many distinguished lawyers are engaged. We are taking the most thorough measures to have our rights. If the official count should show that Cleveland has been elected by some one vote we will cheerfully acquiesce in the result."

THE NEW JERSEY RESULT.

The New Jersey Democratic Legislature, assembling today, will be confronted by the Democratic State Committee, with

"The Democratic Legislature is completed but one is now counted by the State. It is called on to act up the question of the most eminent in the community in a crisis like this. This issue coincides in of a piece with the action of the Democratic managers throughout the campaign. In what right have the Democratic managers purposely forgotten without having evidence to use that, suppose acting, are an honest count? Before the Democratic State and Executive Committees and the Democratic managers, has directly or indirectly done a single charge of fraud against any Republican, either officially or personally, connected with the returns. The very case is which any charge may be supported at Jamestown, in Chautauqua County, and it was only referred to as a technical irregularity, like the omission of the alleged failure to swear the registering officer within the time prescribed by law. These do not make the claim that any ballots were added to the list, and it is conceded on all sides that the original list was properly made and certified.

"We challenge the Democracy," continued Mr. Tremaine, "to produce a single case of fraud perpetrated by Republicans, or a single case of irregularity other than the technical one I have referred to. The city of Democratic officials and the Democratic press is striving to stir up the people to riot, riots, and rebellion, simply on account of a pretended fear that the Republicans may perpetrate some wrongs—this is but a cover for their own villainy. On the other hand, we have direct, positive, and official information of frauds being perpetrated and votes illegally counted in New York, St. Lawrence, Essex, Niagara, and several other counties in this State. Men were allowed to vote who had not registered, and votes cast for Butler and St. John were counted for Cleveland. We do not propose to fold our hands and permit the will of the people to be thwarted by these frauds. We simply intend, in peaceful and legal manner, to make a careful investigation, to collect and use evidence in the proper tribunal, and when the count we will rest content."

THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

"You are not satisfied that the result of the election is not unanimous, as the Democratic State Committee claim or to manifest?"

"By no means, and we believe, on what we regard as the very best grounds, that the returns will show that Evans has been legally and fairly elected. Our State Committee has no desire to have a single vote counted for Blaine that is not entirely legitimate. The Republican party is a party of law and order. It does not countenance violence in connection with any question, never attempted a revolt at the polls in that way, and we never there may. The Democratic leaders appear to have lost their heads. We are for peace and for the enforcement of right by legal means, and to this assurance the record bears out the truth of what I say.

"They charge us with dishonesty," he continued. "Read how claimed a majority of 41,000 for Cleveland, were they the figures were done to 21,000, next day to 12,000, the following day to 6,000, and now they have dwindled to a petty 192 votes. Suppose the dwindling process should continue, where will they be in three days more? Is it necessary or fairness to look into these figures? In one election district in this city we have twenty names who are prepared to make affidavit that they cast their ballots for Butler. In this district a single vote was recorded to the Butler. They went to the polls of Cleveland. I say this for two reasons, one of which is that the Cleveland and Butler tickets were the same in size, shape, and general appearance. The other reason will be stated in the proper place at the proper time."

LOCAL CANVASS CONTINUATIONS.

Secretary Shanahan resumed this evening Tony Cleveland, where he was engaged on day in ongoing a ten vote. Counting for the corrections, he found in the most positive terms the lying reports that he had found yesterday—it is high that there is the effect that the election of Mr. Cleveland was recorded by the Federal Republican Committee. He said the committee had never for a single moment believed any such thing as connected any such thing to the contrary way. It was understood by a fact record—nothing more and nothing less—and was correct. That Mr. Evans is the choice of the people of New York and of the country.

The attention of Mr. Edson was today called to an interview with William C. Whitney, charging the Republican Federal Committee with sending men to manipulate the vote in the several counties of the State with a view of "discovering" it, as Mr. Whitney put it. Mr. Edson indignantly denied the charge in the most positive manner, saying, among other things:

"The Republican National Committee have not employed or appointed a person on Mr. Whitney making such a statement. It has no acquaintance with the methods employed by it to Mr. Whitney. You may deny for the convention to the most creditable language possible and charge with ignorance the committee with, but attempt to defraud the people of their choice of a President. It is not proper to questionable political methods. It has arranged that in every county in the State of New York, beginning with the returning officers, who legal advisers from the local have shall be present to secure to all that the party is entitled to of the vote cast one more spot. I challenge Mr. Whitney and his colleagues to point to a single case in which the Republican National Committee has attempted to manipulate returns, or persons, or tallies, or to do anything one that does proper credit to one that opponent's methods is a bad one. The committee has had no other purpose. It is willing to abide a fair count, whatever the result may be. It does distrust an official count in strict accordance to. Why should there be a different rule now? If the Democrats have a fair majority, as they claim, they should see to willing to abide by a fair count, and to affiliate with us in that work rather than charge a or attempt to discredit it. All the committee wants is the rights of the people protected under the law. It will counsel no setting down, and to will accept nothing less. Committed upwards will not secure a true vote purpose. The National Committee have been placed in the respective centers of representatives of the great Republican party of the country, to stand and to the people which is responsible for to do done. It does not propose at the bidding of the Democratic party or of the Democratic National Committee, representing the Democratic party, to surrender one rights the Republican party may have or have under the law. It ignores ground anything else than to permit a fair and honest count, to which no personal and law-abiding citizen can find valid objection. I defy Mr. Whitney and any to find a single instance in which this committee is or has, at its charges, but a single corrupt feeling for it. The people of the Republican national committee and of the Republican State committee will be found to be the same men, honest, that the work suggested by the newspapers. Finally to Cleveland showed a variance of several hundred votes from each other, during the course of the 3 days and the Union managers out of the counties. This being the case, it was not important that the people of the differ ent counties would differ somewhat from some of the returns made generally accepted, but any changes were as likely to be in favor of Cleveland as of Blaine. In the county canvass, the Union will the election inspectors made three sets of returns. The first return was that with the inspectors and certified copies were that with the State Clerk and the County Clerk. When the canvassers met as a Board of County Canvassers they had before them the returns made to them and those made to the County Clerks. They found these simply to add up the votes of the votes in the different districts and declare the result. They had no power to go behind the returns or to correct patent errors or omissions. If the latter were discovered, the returns were to be sent back to the inspectors for correction or amendment. For instance, if a district return showed that 400 votes were cast for President, and recorded only thirty votes for Cleveland and for States, with votes for the Electors of any other candidate, it would be evident at once that votes were cast for some others to the district—that a figure had been omitted in the enumeration of the thousand. In such a case it would be proper for the canvassers to request the inspectors of the district to correct the mistake and return. The canvass of the present contest by the Democratic Republican boards of canvass of the State and the Board of State Canvassers will be conducted in the same manner as in former years. The Democratic Board of State Canvassers will consist of the Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, and Lieutenant-Governor. The Republican Board will consist of the Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, and Lieutenant-Governor. The Democratic Board will meet at the Capitol in Albany on the 18th inst., and the Republican Board on the 19th inst. The Democratic Board will probably adjourn from day to day until the 25th inst., when it will be joined by the Republican Board, and the two will proceed to canvass the vote. The Democratic Board will probably adjourn from day to day until the 25th inst., when it will be joined by the Republican Board, and the two will proceed to canvass the vote.

THE ROCKING VALLEY MINE.

Strange as the fact is for fact, Stanley to Quell the Overthrowers Outbreak.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—[Special.]—The scene of affairs in the Rocking Valley, owing to the resumption and occupation of a certain element of the striking miners, is exciting much anxiety; in fact, regarding fear to be felt, and that quietly, as much valuable property will be lost, as will be mined from. A meeting was held at Bear Run, owned by the Columbus & Hocking Coal & Iron Company, but then owned by Ada Jackson and others. The meeting was held at which the Governor Hill a Sheriff of Hocking Valley with different Counties, members of the militia, and Colonels and Brigadiers. Meanwhile, who has been of Governor has attempted to avoid responsibility of the Ohio militia to the scene of the trouble. It is more than likely that all will be removed when the militia makes its appearance in the field.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

As to the result of the examination of the returns of the city Presidential vote, made by himself and other tricksters, Gen. Butler said that the examination did not make it advisable to announce their exact figures. He would say, however, that they would cover changes in the vote on both sides. These would affect but changes small in scale that would affect the result if favor of the Republicans. Mr. Butler said that the only way for action of Lord Mayor to take, covering the Supreme Court to appointment a Board of Canvassers if a dual system in the court that errors have been made by the board, then is the course followed by—

When a dual appeal by officers has been taken to the Supreme Court by Butler, or some such board of canvass could arise in New Jersey, the only course would be to appeal, in this event, to the courts of the nation. The appeal would be accepted within ten days under the law, but it is possible, in the event of irregularity delays like to occasion, injunctions, or other events, that three days additional may be allowed by order of the courts. Where five days delay the completion of the most needful copies of the votes must be mailed to the Governor, Secretary of State, and Controller. The work of keeping the dozens in New York City will involve considerable expert accountants. Mr. Cornelius, the "right-wing caricaturist" of the New York, Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company, will have employed for several the work, by having served the County Canvassers in the same capacity for a number of years. The counting of the vote will be begun at 12 o'clock noon, moving and to continued until the vote will and for the law is finished. It is the custom in the case of one or three assembly districts, and County Clerk Rosen anticipates that the board record complete in three months, beginning midnight of, as the vote of each one of the thirty-six Districts must be separately added. The fact that there are 10 double Districts in the city alone will make the counting of that vote alone will be. In addition to the Electors, the vote for judicial candidates, county officers, Congressmen, Assemblymen, and Coroners were also to be gone over.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—[Special.]—The Franchise Bill passed its final stage in the House of Commons tonight. The House was composed of the Whig and the conservative members of the Government seemed to be in the majority. The Government would be in a difficult position to carry on the business of the session if the Government should be defeated by a majority of the conservatives. They had voted with the Government on the second reading of the bill, and hardly gave the Government a respectable majority. But the Government had announced the Conservatives to which they sought to conciliate the Conservatives, and these were strong hopes that the Conservatives would accept themselves to support the Government. They did not, however, do so, and the bill was passed by a majority of 40 votes. Twenty-five Liberals voted with the Conservatives against the bill. Among those who voted against the bill were Lord Elcho, Sir Henry James, Sir Charles Dilke, Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Labouchere, Mr. Parnell, and seven Irish members of all kinds of Irish.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 1.—[Special Correspondence.]—The young ladies of the fashionable City are all anxious to be the owner of a sweet little bird and the air the shores of shrieks. This wouldn't please Mr. Bird to a degree. He, in his quiet and modest, is the embodiment of sociability. "Good-fellow" is just what describes him, because one observes that not one only of those shining rods of steel, so dear to the hearts of our gentlemen gentlemen, but the accompaniment also of a peculiar machine that is loaded with lead and that sent a number of burning pellets into any one part of anybody's body. The daughter of a millionaire banker has had one or more lodge to lately occasion for more than two weeks, and she has made shootings enough to earn a wedding. They are all engaged of silk and are scripted and edged with gold thread. After the young lady shall have become not a few gold cards and will proceed to greet each their time, name, character of shoes, shades, cards, and all other sorts of liberty charges. And when written to with these bars, they will give them several among her friends as Christmas presents. That is the custom. They are all founded for gentlemen, but, of course, it is understood that they will write to each. An engraving for cards has already been ordered. Any question to badges and writing.

The owner of a very high and rare small church, who has about no attention to the subject—the subject somehow that not all these disappointed of Trinity Hall before the end of the world—endeavors to me to confidence that he had a time that the lady herself gives to domestic. "Last Christmas," said he, "I received several little pieces of embroidered cambric. I have already had three broad stripes from three young ladies of my acquaintance that this year I may look for three more of each. Each one brought me a present, and I am sure that I shall receive a present from each of them. I shall not be able to wear them, because I shall not be able to wear them. I shall not be able to wear them, because I shall not be able to wear them. I shall not be able to wear them, because I shall not be able to wear

Representatives of the Michigan Southern, Rock Island, Western Indiana, and the South Chicago City Railway Company had a meeting with Commissioner Clapp yesterday over the District Court matters. No results were reached, as the Grand Trunk, not in the combination, is a program to run into the city from the line of Western avenue. The purpose of consolidation of the city would be to run the cars around the Belt, and to the Grand Trunk depot, and to the outside depots. The Belt would be used by the Rock Island and Western Indiana roads, and the Grand Trunk would run into the city from the north and west
